Dear Alan,

I just wanted to let you know how much I have appreciated employeesignup.com this past year. We have used it for countless events – seminars, health screenings, blood drives, etc - and I no longer have to manually confirm registrations, build class lists, or send e-mail reminders to participants. This product has allowed me to focus on more strategic aspects of health promotion.

As much as I love employeesignup.com, our employees love it even more. Participation has increased at least 30% in all programs this year, and the only change we made to our program was the addition of employeesignup.com.

Thanks again,
